

Purple Bullet Perdigon

Hook: size 16 - 18

Bead: 2.8 mm

Thread: White Semper fly nano silk thread 30/0

Tail: Coq de Leon

Body: 70 Denier purple thread

Collar: Neon Pink Sharpie

Head: Black Sally Hansen hard-as-nails polish

Body Finish: UV resin

Tying Instructions:

1. Add bead to hook and take a few wraps of purple thread to secure it.
2. Tie in Coq de Leon for the tail. The length should be slightly less than a hook shank. (1/2 – 2/3 long)
3. Wrap purple thread up to bead, then back part way, then up again. Repeat 2-3 times to create a thin tapered body. Whip finish and cut off.
4. Tie in Nano Silk behind bead and create a small collar.
5. Take the Pink Sharpie and run the marker up and down a length of tying thread. Use the highlighted thread to create a small hot spot collar. Whip finish (using pink thread) and snip your tying thread free.
6. Cover the fly body with a thin coat of UV resin. Rotate fly to smooth out the resin and then hit it with a short burst of light to temporarily set the resin.
7. Cure the resin fully with another 5 seconds or so of light.
8. Add a small touch of black nail polish to cover part of the hot spot and the bead.
9. Allow nail polish to dry.
10. Optionally, you can coat the nail polish with a thin coat of resin and cure it with a few seconds of light.
